02

Walkthrough of valuation methodology incorporating horizontal reporting

Valuation principles and methodology incorporating horizontal reporting elements

1

Completeness of valuation components

- ▶ Incorporate all types of earnings into valuation of 3 segments
- ▶ Include balance sheet items: cash, receivables and other assets from Hold Co<sup>1</sup>, Asset Co<sup>2</sup> and other investments

Appropriate methodology to value each component

- ▶ P/E multiples for valuation components where value is derived from income-generating business
- ▶ RNAV or P/B multiples or carrying value for valuation components where value is based on holding & worth of assets
- ▶ Quoted market price to value listed funds

3

Differentiated multiples based on nature of business

- ▶ Differentiated P/E multiples for Operating income vis-à-vis EPC / Development (recurring vis-à-vis 'lumpy' profits)
- ▶ Differentiated P/E multiples for Asset Management fees for each platform

The background of the slide features a close-up photograph of several hands interacting with smartphones. The focus is on a person's hands in the foreground, with their index finger touching the screen of a black smartphone. The screen displays a grid of small, light-colored icons. In the background, another person's hands are visible, also holding a smartphone. Two vertical yellow bars are positioned on the left side of the slide, one to the left of the '03' and one to the right of the smartphone. The overall color palette is dark, with the yellow bars providing a strong contrast.

EY | Building a better working world

As part of Keppel Corporation Limited (“Keppel”) Transformation program (“Transformation”), Keppel is introducing a new horizontal reporting framework (“Reporting Framework”) illustrated in section 1 of this presentation: “Orientation to Horizontal Reporting Earnings for FY22”.

EY Corporate Advisors Pte. Ltd (“We” or “EY”) has been engaged as an advisor by Keppel to perform an outside-in valuation analysis of Keppel based on the new Reporting Framework (the “Analysis”). The Analysis is performed based on business and financial information as at 31 December 2022 and it is based on publicly available information.

Our work should not be construed as an investment advice to the current and prospective investors of Keppel. We accept no responsibility or liability to any person other than to Keppel and accordingly if such other persons choose to rely upon any of the contents of this presentation, they do so at their own risk.

We are not expressing an opinion on the commercial merits and structure of the Transformation and Reporting Framework and accordingly, this presentation does not purport to contain all the information that may be necessary or desirable to fully evaluate the commercial merit of the Transformation.

The scope of our engagement does not require us to express, and we do not express a view on the future prospects of Keppel. We are therefore not expressing any view on the future trading share price of the shares or the financial condition of Keppel upon completion of the Transformation. The information contained herein is not intended to provide, and should not be relied upon for, accounting, legal or tax advice or investment recommendations.

We have not conducted a comprehensive review of the business, operations and financial condition of Keppel or any of their associated or joint venture companies. We have also not made an independent valuation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities of Keppel.

This presentation does not constitute a valuation opinion nor an audit opinion. We are not providing an opinion or any other form of assurance under audit or assurance standards on any financial information. We have not performed any procedures related to, among other matters, (i) legal exposures, (ii) environmental matters, (iii) human resource matters, (iv) market diligence, including competitive diligence, (v) macroeconomic and geopolitical impacts, (vi) insurance, (vii) information technology, (viii) compliance and regulatory matters, (ix) synergies and (x) cyber diligence.

For the presentation, we have only used publicly available information or other third-party sources (for example, market research reports, web-based research and competitor annual accounts). We have not and will not verify the accuracy, reliability or completeness of such information or sources.

For the purpose of our valuation analysis, this presentation does not take account of events or circumstances arising after the valuation date of 31 December 2022, except for the proposed acquisition of Keppel O&M by Sembcorp Marine, and we have no responsibility to update this presentation for such events or circumstances after 31 December 2022.
